

NEED BIG ROW, WOMAN THINKS

California Delegate Finds Convention Tame After 1912 Experience.

Chicago, June 11.—The oppressive heat which has been a convention visitor for the last two days is beginning to take its toll of heat prostrations. Seven or eight people had to be carried from the convention floor. They were taken to the emergency hospital in the building and no serious results are expected in any of the cases, according to Dr. John D. Robertson, medical officer of the convention.

The rumor spread rapidly late yesterday that Senator Lodge was a victim and had fainted as he was leaving the Coliseum. It was started when "Jim" Preston, superintendent of the Senate press gallery, sought to conduct the Senator through the hospital in order to avoid the jam in the Coliseum annex.

As Lodge was leaving the building a man rushed up, stating he was sorry to hear the Senator fainted.

"Do I look like a fainting man?" Lodge snapped. The sympathizer disappeared in the crowd.

Senator Lodge has introduced his famous horizontal striped shirt to Chicago. He has worn one every day he has presided and as a result some duplications are appearing in shop windows.

Down in a cool secluded corner of the "catacombs of the Coliseum" is what Goldsmith might call "the deserted bar," for years ago it was jammed to overflowing every day.

Senator Lodge, usually very calm and dignified, is breaking up more convention furniture than any chairman in many years. His first "rough stunt" was to take in the top of his table by several vigorous bangs from the gavel. Yesterday in his efforts to maintain order he broke the convention gavel, which is made from a raft of old Indian-bone coal. The building was owned by Willard Walker, who places his loss at $18,000, with some insurance. Stoker's loss is $4,500, with no insurance.

Why Itch and Burn
With Skin Diseases?

There is a Way to Get Rid of the Torturing, Suffering.

Those who rely upon local treatment such as ointments, salves, lotions, washes, etc., which are applied to the surface of the skin, will never be free from itching skin diseases, because they are going about the treatment just backward. They are treating the results of the disorder, and not the disease itself. They are attempting to boil water by applying the heat in the wrong place.

These terrifying skin irritations, eczema, tetter, boils, pimples, etc., have their origin in a disordered condition of the blood. They come from a colony of tiny germs which

The old bartender, veteran of many big meetings in the Coliseum, was feeling decidedly gloomy over the prospects for profits.

"I've got a big tick of the nearest beer Supreme Court will allow and haven't cold as much so far this week as I would have in half an hour in the old days," he said.

Cops on duty at the Coliseum are tired of their jobs. So far they have had very little to do. The scarcity of booze is the reason, all claim.

The real "cub" reporter of the convention is John R. Barry, 16, of the Durham, (N. C.) Sun.

THE HUNTER BUREAU,

Alexandria, Va., June 11.—The educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. of this city is engaged in a campaign to induce all children attending public schools this season to return at the next scholastic session.

In the interest of this work addresses were delivered Wednesday at the schools by Dr. C. C. Kress, medical officer at the naval port station; John H. Trimyer, Rev. John Lee Allison, Rev. E. V. Regester, M. L. Dinwiddie and Secretary Wallace, of the Y. M. C. A. It is proposed to follow up this work in the autumn.

L. E. Butts has received his commission as district deputy grand master from the grand master of Virginia.

The body of James Deane Davis, who was killed in a motorcycle accident in Washington Wednesday night, was brought here this afternoon and buried in the Presbyterian Cemetery. The services were conducted by the Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Episcopal Church.

Announcement is made that the total fund collected for the ambulance to be purchased for the Alexandria Hospital now amounts to $2,024.83.

In the Corporation Court today R. H. Cox was appointed sergeant administrator of the estate of Margaret H. Hammill.

Next to the Supreme Court, Uncle Joe Cannon is the nation's greatest authority on prohibition. Ever since he told the convention yesterday that the dry laws must be enforced, delegates have sought rulings on reservations from him.

Senator Lodge, chairman of the convention, wanted the decks cleared for action when he took the platform today. He ordered a big vase of American Beauty roses taken off his table.

Chauncey M. Depew had a narrow escape from serious injury when he fell on a flight of stairs in the hall. He was caught by a policeman and was not injured.

Five heat prostrations, two of women, were reported at the emergency hospital in the Coliseum, during the first three hours of the session. The condition of none was said to be serious.
